Your Health and Fitness Performance Consultant

Ever hear the phrase, consult your doctor before starting a new exercise program?
Now you have someone to support you with the right answers to keep you progressing safely.

Dr. Gottlieb can help you with neck and back pain as well as other injuries and conditions that may limit your work out, (headaches, shoulder, elbow, wrist, hip, knee, foot/ankle and balance/posture problems).

Dr. Gottlieb has received specialized training in advanced rehabilitation techniques that are super-effective. He will safely keep you working out, and help you discover the body you always wanted. Health performance training for athletes and getting the under-active moving again are his special talents. You can expect great chiropractic care from this well-known author and lecturer. Isn't it time you had a Health Coach?
